Mr Daan Wura: This is the fourth letter I have sent you, hoping still to win you back to lead a better life. I am still writing to forgive you, for I shall never more be happy in this world white things remain as they are. Sometimes I think of leaving the country entirely; then I take another turn of mind, that I never nad helder you acted so. My mind wanders or sometimes that I scarcely know what I am doing. Dear wife, unless you compiy with any wishes, God only inner wife, unless you compiy with any wishes, God only inner wife, unless you compiy with any wishes, God only inner wife, unless you compiy with any wishes, God only inner wife will become of me. It is hard for me to hear, after living lawfally together for I years, to be served so, and by a man that I have betriended, and that I thought was a good man and my friend. But I feel as though I can forgive all for you, if you will only reform and lead a good life.

Such a life as you are leading always has a blitter ending, both in this world and in the next. Think before it is too late of what you are doing, and pray to God to forgive you, and you: 100 he much happier. Dear wife, my mind feels compace life evening, more than if has for same time past, but bed only knows how long it will remain so. I implore you to have tense or reason from one that still loves you, and I slways tail, as I always did. But from some cause or other you have been my knows how long it will remain so. I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so is he other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeble dis therge from both sers, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most minent practitioner in the city without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. You Elsenberg, but I must candidly say that bad no faith in his success when I did so. It is therefore due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but ler the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinien, certain. This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull beaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up, accompanied by continual oreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occa sional bot flushes, a great tightness of the cheet, and pain, so such to that every one thought it was consumption. Having and of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I sulted him, with but little hope of a cure. I am new happy to be enabled to add my testimental to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and sussessful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great reputation.
